OUR APPROACH

- Practice Trust-Based Philanthropy: We build trusted relationships with our funded partners grounded in power-sharing, transparency, mutual accountability, and continuous learning. A mutual commitment to transparent conversations and learning leads to greater impact.
- Take Risks: As an innovative funder, bi3 encourages funded partners to take risks, implement new ideas and pilot new solutions to solve for deep-seated community health issues.
- Apply a racial and health equity lens: We consider race, ethnicity and social determinants of health in every facet of our work, e.g. while analyzing problems, looking for solutions, and defining success.
- We view impact through an expansive lens: In addition to considering outputs and outcomes, we value the identification of barriers and captured learnings.
